

The John Cardinal Foley Chair of Homiletics & Social Communications
SAINT CHARLES BORROMEEO SEMINARY, OVERBROOK

100 E. Wynnewood Road • Wynnewood, PA 19096 • 610-785-6267 • www.scs.edu/john-cardinal-foley-chair

PTH 602 - Contemporary Homiletics Spring 2020

Seminarian Podcasts for Lent

(click on the photos to go to the audio)

Listen to CatholicPhilly.com

The desert of Lent reveals God's footprints

Eric Tamney, a seminarian from St. Charles Borromeo Seminary in Wynnewood, shares with Inside CatholicPhilly.com how the temptation of Christ calls us to focus us on our relationship with the Father.

Listen to CatholicPhilly.com

Without the Cross, there can be no crown

Henry Graebe, a seminarian at St. Charles Borromeo Seminary in Wynnewood, shares with Inside CatholicPhilly.com how Christ's transfiguration prepares us for his Passion.

Listen to CatholicPhilly.com

Christ provides the living water for every thirst

Ricardo Tobar, a seminarian at St. Charles Borromeo Seminary in Wynnewood, Pennsylvania, shares how Jesus awaits us at the point of our greatest need -- and once we have received his love, it will overflow into others' lives.

Listen to CatholicPhilly.com

Letting the Lord heal our blindness

We are all born blind to our true dignity as beloved children of God. Andrew Lane, a seminarian at St. Charles Borromeo Seminary in Wynnewood, shares how Christ longs to heal us so that we can heal others and our wounded world.

Listen to CatholicPhilly.com

Through tears to the joy of new life

Before raising Lazarus from the dead, Jesus first allowed himself to weep. Seminarian Andrew Auletta shares with Inside CatholicPhilly.com how you can still cry at the sad parts, even when you know the story has a happy ending.

Listen to CatholicPhilly.com

Christ transforms our suffering into new life

We often feel alone in hardship, an isolation Jesus knows well through his Passion and Death. Christopher Massaro, a seminarian at St. Charles Borromeo Seminary, shares how Christ enters into our sorrow and leads us to the joy of the Resurrection.

* * * * *