“The Present & Future of Catholic Media”

with LINO RULLI

LINO RULLI hosts the afternoon drive radio show heard across North America on “The Catholic Channel” – live on SiriusXM Satellite Radio Channel 129 and as a top-100 Catholic podcast. He’s “an everyday Catholic guy with a fresh, fun, and often off-beat take on living out the faith in the world today.” He is also Personal Media Advisor to Cardinal Timothy Dolan. He began his career in television in 1988 and is the first person to win an Emmy award for Catholic broadcasting since Bishop Fulton Sheen. He has a bachelor’s degree in communications and a master’s degree in theology.
