

CATHOLIC PREACHING INSTITUTE

@ Saint Charles Borromeo Seminary

CPI is preparing to launch its first program at the beginning of the 2025 liturgical year – a commentary series on the Sunday Gospel called Within the Word.

The Gospel commentaries are for the benefit of preachers and parishioners alike ... anyone seeking a deeper understanding of and connection to Scripture.

WRITERS NEEDED!

Within the Word needs contributors– both scholarly and personal – from writers willing to share their insight and understanding on what the Sunday Scriptures mean and how they are meaningful.

Are you open to ...

- + sharing how God's Word speaks to you on a personal level?
- + explaining how the ancient text tells the story of God's Good News?
- + contextualizing the divine Word in way that believers can make it their own today?

If so, let us know! preaching@scs.edu.

~ Fr. Thomas Dailey, OSFS

DETAILS ...

- + Each Sunday's Gospel reading will feature two brief commentaries ... one from the pulpit (meaning of text), and one from the pew (relevancy of text).
- + Gospel commentaries are brief and easy to read ... only 250 to 300 words each.
- + Writers receive $100 for each accepted submission.
- + Weekly newsletters, with inspiring artwork, will be distributed beginning on December 1, 2024. (see newsletter sample).
- + For further details, visit the CPI website.
